“Knowing God and Making Him Known”

Bible Study

April 30, 2017

Text: Psalm 139

Theme: “You Can Run, but You Cannot Hide.”

Key Observation: Since we cannot escape the inescapable God...since He knows everything there is to know, since He is everywhere at the same time, and since there is no limit to what he can do, we might as well surrender to His demand for personal holiness.

Lessons:

- 1) Since God knows everything there is to know about me (His omniscience), I can run, but I cannot hide from Him.
(Psalm 139:1-6)

- 2) Since God is everywhere at the same time (His omnipresence), I can run, but I cannot hide from Him.
(Psalm 139:7-12)

- 3) Since there is no limitation to what God can do (His omnipotence), I can run, but I cannot hide from Him.
(Psalm 139:13-18)

- 4) Since God is omniscient, and since God is omnipresent, and since God is omnipotent, I might as well surrender to His demand for holiness because I can run, but I cannot hide.
(Psalm 139:19-24)
